The defendant is the only son of with the decree had been done in James Lowe, an old and wealthy resitheir office. He admited, however, that dent of the Ninth Ward. He is said the decree attached to the judgment roll to be worth about half a million dollars. The couple were married June 14, 1882, and had two children, one of whom Lawyers Woodward and Meyer were associated with Howe & Hummel as Mrs.

After Mr. Hummel's arrival both Lawyers Woodward and Meyer explained to Judge McAdam that they had been Mrs.

Warren's lawyers for years, and when she began the divorce action against her husband they retained Howe & Hummel, as they did not wish to appear as attorneys of record in a divorce proceeding.

They said that when Mrs. Warren showed them the decree, which Mr. Hummel had given to her, and which was signed by Judge McAdam, they

They said that when Mrs. Warren showed them the decree, which Mr. Hummel had given to her, and which was standable to see that only $40 at month alimony had been granted to her, and for a time allowed her $300 to see that only $40 at month alimony had been granted to her, and for a time allowed her $300 to see that the alimony should cause should she marry again.

They say that they went to see Mr. Hummel, and ascertained that the decree, as though it was attached to a living and sold the furniture and many of her wedding presents, realizing about $2,000. She says that for five expenses.

Finally, came out that there had been no tampering with the decree, as Judge McAdam had signed the one submitted by Mr. Warren.

"If you are dissatisfied, I will set asside the judgment in favor of Mrs. Warren, and it can all be tried over stain," said Judge McAdam flantly agreed to take under consideration the request of Woodward and Meyer that the alimony be raised to 580.

Mr. Warren said: "The $10 a week the now gets is more than her father ever got, and he raised a family of six children."

but that he was not now connected with the Company and did not own any stock in it.

The price paid to the Sicilian Company for asphalt was $17.19. The Seyser Company offered to furnish the material for $16.90. The Sicilians came down to the Seyser Companys' figures, and the Seyser Companys' figures, and the Seyser Company was shut out. So was the Standard Company, which offered to furnish asphalt for $15.90 per ton. President Clausen said the Standard Seyser Companys, which offered to furnish asphalt for $15.90 per ton. President Clausen said the Standard's offer was declined because its asphalt was of inferior quality. There is a question as to whether the law was not evaded in the purchase of the asphalt. The law says no city department can purchase supplies for more than $1,000 unless competitive bids have been invited for the same.

The asphalt purchased out of the million-dollar fund was ordered in $390 lots, to avoid advertising for bids, and sometimes three purchases of this kind were made in one day.

Comptroller Fitch has not paid for "orders" made under this private agreement, and will not do so until he is satisfied that the law has not been violated. The claim of the Sicilian Company is $34.000.

Commissioner Bell made an important amendment to-day to his remarks in the Board yesterday. He said: "I did not say that all work should be stopped."

Those who heard Mr. Bell's remarks are certain that he did not mention asphalt. He said: "All work should be stopped."

There is $120.000 to be expended on asphalt work and about $500,000 on other contracts. About 1,000 men will be thrown out of work under the new order.
